2012 Research & Creative Activities Report

Research Appreciation Week, April 2-6, 2012.

Research Appreciation Week is a time to celebrate the contributions of researchers and to highlight the importance of research to the university and the community. The week is filled with a variety of events, including lectures, seminars, and public programs. The events are designed to provide a platform for researchers to share their work and to engage with the public. The week is a great opportunity for students, faculty, and the community to learn more about the research being done at the university and to appreciate the hard work and dedication of the researchers.
