Student Receives the 2022 National League for Nursing Education Scholarship

Laurie Connors, a student in Indiana University of Pennsylvania's PhD doctoral program in nursing, has been selected for a 2022 National League for Nursing Education Scholarship. She will be recognized as a scholarship recipient at the National League for Nursing Education Summit on September 29.

group will prepare a Thanksgiving feast for all the students. The Punxsutawney Activities Board is the campus organization that consists of students from all populations of students that plan events for everyone. The approximate 16 active members have planned a karaoke night, a pumpkin decorating night and will be hosting the Annual Halloween party this week. More events are being planned to finish out the fall semester.

ASPP Board Highlights Monthly Member, a School Psychology Alumna

The ASPP Executive Board would like to highlight our September Monthly Member Spotlight/ASPP Accolade recipient, Dr. Angela McMasters, from Indiana Area School District! Dr. McMasters was nominated as the September Monthly Member Spotlight/ASPP Accolade recipient as a result of her Visionary Leadership.

We would like to extend our thanks to Dr. Jean Hertzman for spearheading this issue and to Melinda L. McIsaac, M.Ed., MA, CEC, CCE, FMP for her article. Without their hard work and dedication to culinary education this September 2022 issue would not have been possible.
