

Diagram 1: A large rectangular frame with a cyan header bar at the top. The frame contains a vertical column of small black square markers on the left side and a vertical column of small black square markers on the right side. The markers are arranged in a regular pattern, suggesting a grid or a sequence of points.

Diagram 2: A large rectangular frame with a cyan header bar at the top. The frame contains a vertical column of small black square markers on the left side and a vertical column of small black square markers on the right side. The markers are arranged in a regular pattern, suggesting a grid or a sequence of points.