

Aim 5: Students will be trained in a sequential manner, beginning with basic training in therapeutic interventions, psychological assessment, cultural competence, and research design/analysis. As students progress through the program, more advanced training in each of these domains is provided and the expectations for minimum levels of competency increase until students reach the point of being entry-level providers of health service psychology