

I. Catalog Description

CRIM 354 White Collar Crime

3 class hours

0 lab hours

Prerequisites: CRIM 101 and CRIM 102

3 semester hours

(3c-01-3sh)

This course is designed to introduce students to various topics and issues relating to

3. Occupational Crime

E. Other Varieties of White-Collar Crime ( 4 lectures)

1. State Authority Occupational Crime

2. Linking Political and Organized Crime

MIDTERM EXAM

E. A Nation of Offenders and Victim Demographics: The role of Gender and Race

Grading scale: Individual faculty will determine the grading scale and include it in the class syllabus. A typical scale would be:

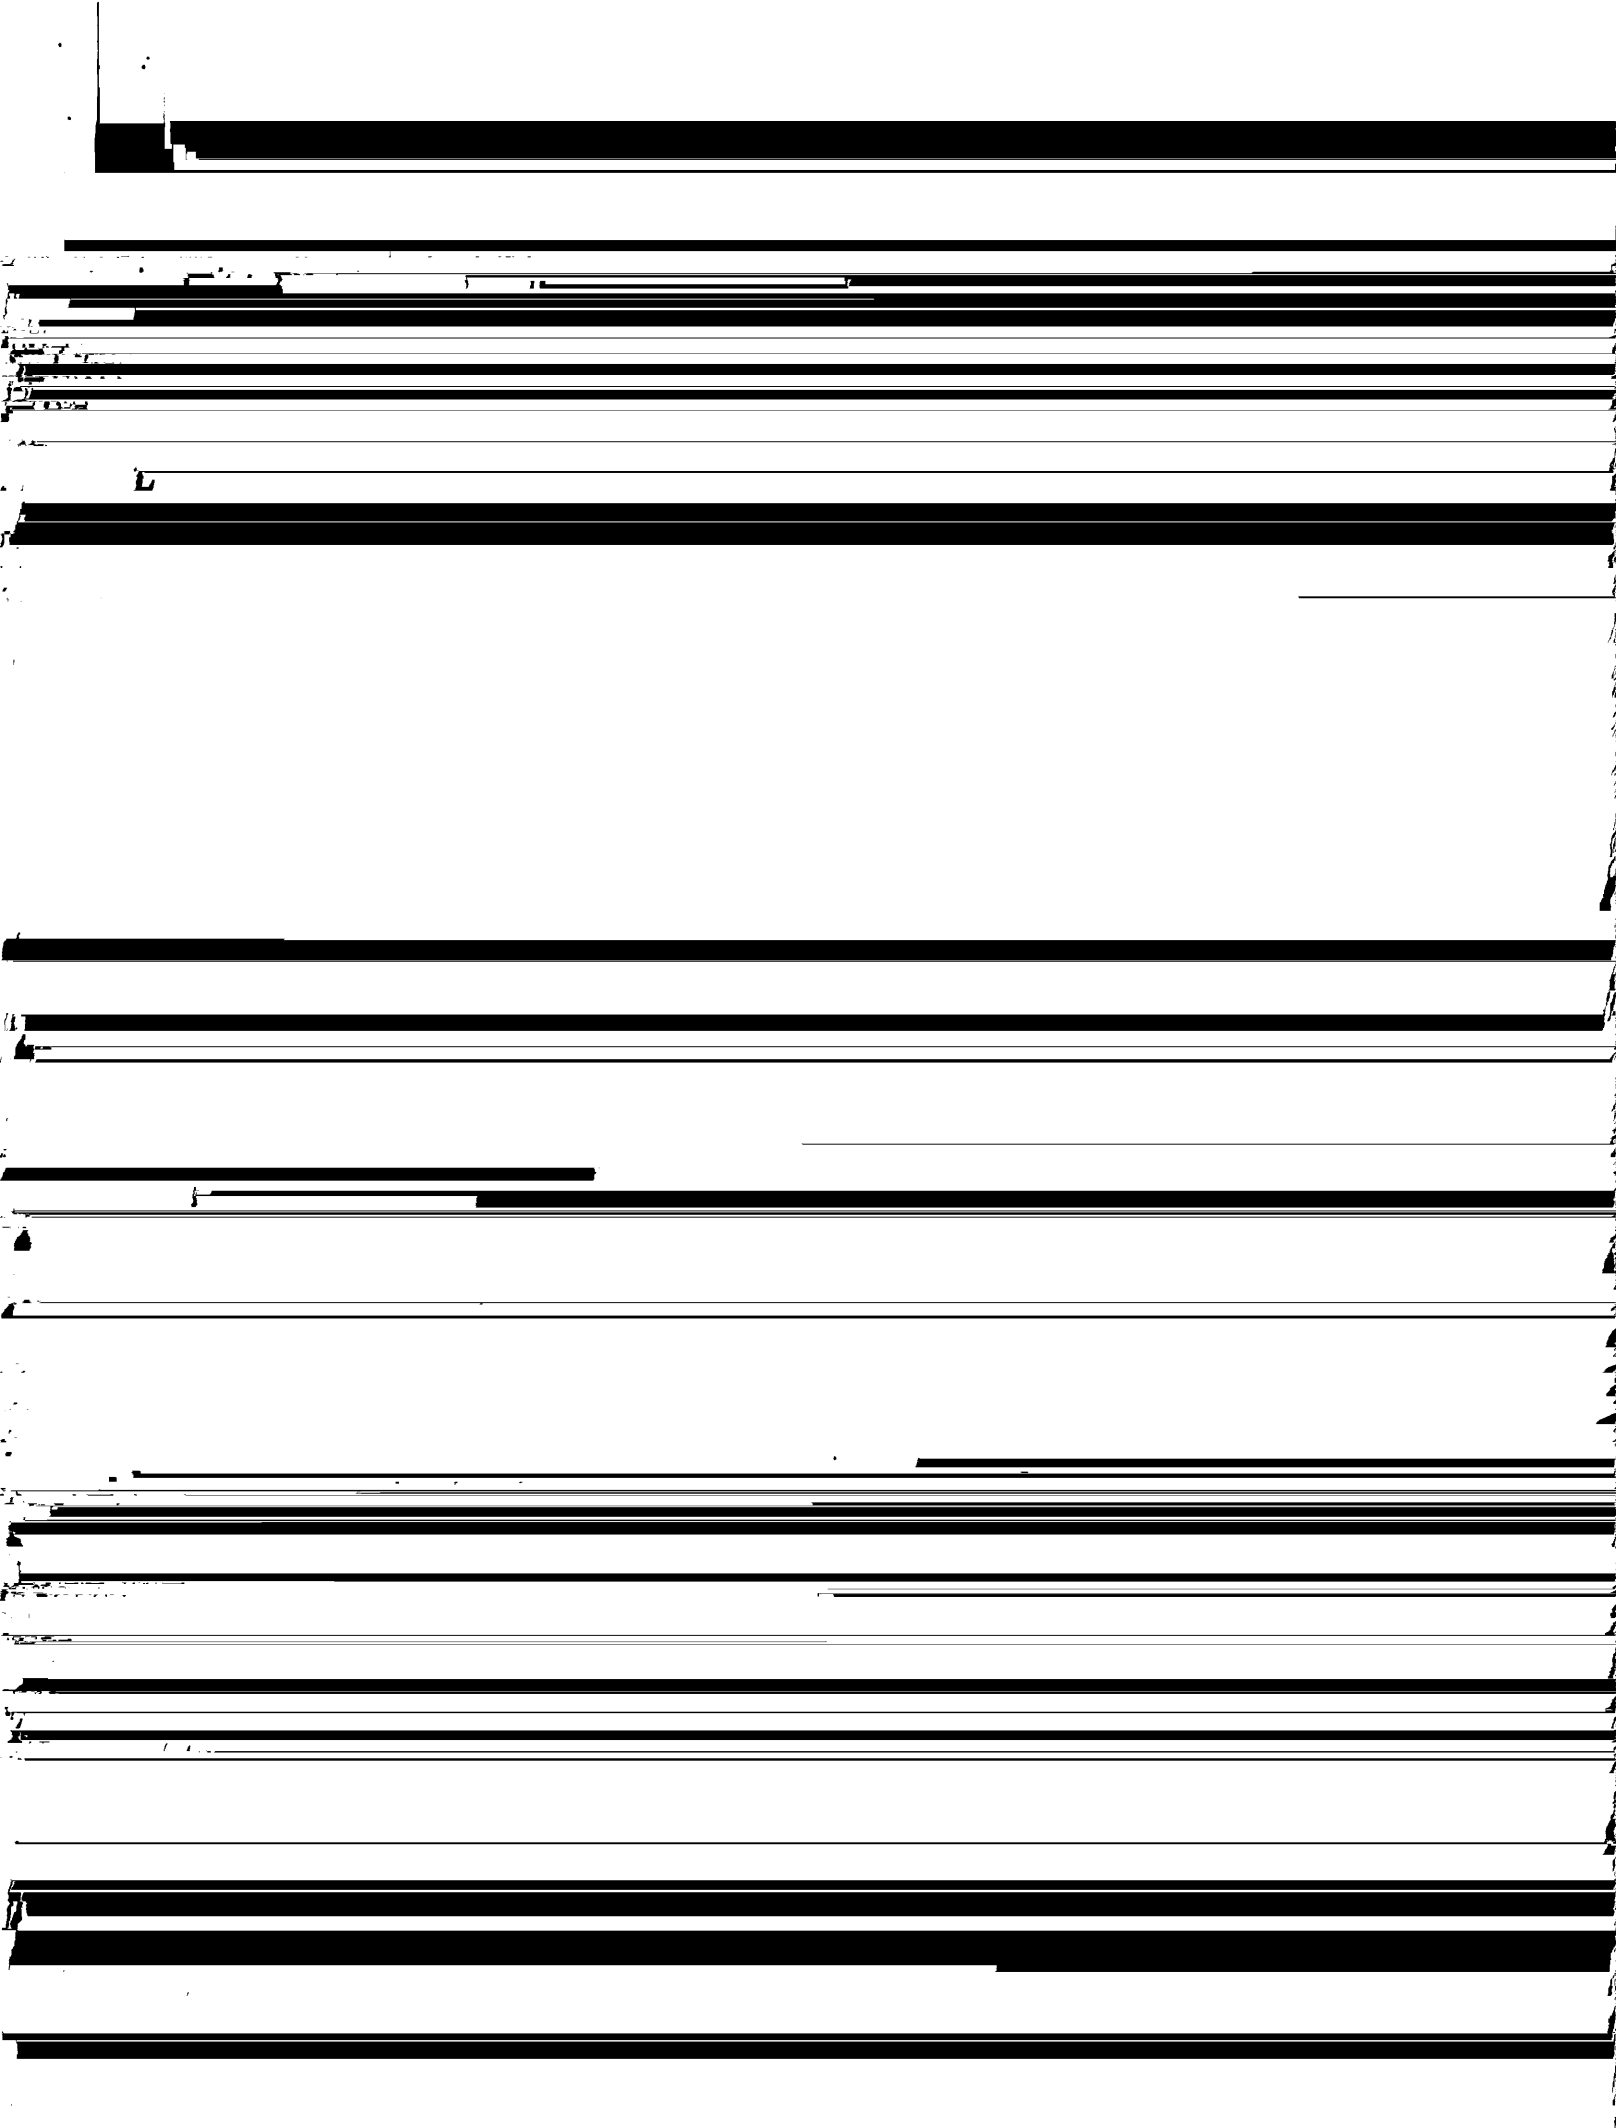

A = 90% and above, B = 80-89%, C = 70-79%, D = 60-69%, F = 0-59%

V. Attendance Policy

Individual faculty will denote an attendance policy on specific course syllabi.

VI. Required Texts, supplemental books and readings

Textbook: Pontell, H. N., Rosoff, S. M. & Tillman, R. (2001). Profit without Honor:

A1 The proposed course is part of the Critical Issues in Criminology "Group B" controlled electives. It is offered for majors and minors only.

A2 This course requires changes in the content of existing courses within our

ir Crime

Catalog Description

a study on current behavioral or administrative criminal justice interventions in criminal justice. Examples of topics include forensic, information technology, drug law, data analysis, financial digital punishment. May be repeated when topics vary.

Analysis of crimes committed by individuals within the work place and by those who are the extent of the problems, social costs, legal responses, and how to assess the etiology of such crimes.

Focuses on and against businesses and explores problems in the prevention and control of white-collar crime.

Focuses on activity in business and corporate enterprise, organizations, and the causes and control of white-collar and corporate crime as well as the numerous definitions of these terms.

Compares occupational crime to other types of criminality; emphasis on control, and social impact.

Focuses on the usually nonviolent criminal conduct described as official crime, or violations of trust that are characterized by calculation, and enrichment. The influence of organized crime also is explored.