

appropriate times and complete information.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE, RACE, ETHNICITY, SOCIAL STRUCTURE, and CRIME

Understanding the relationship between crime and social structure

I. Catalog Description:

CRIM 410 Race, Ethnicity, Social Structure and Crime

3 class hours

0 lab hours

Prerequisites: CRIM 101 and CRIM 102

3 semester hours

(3c-0l-3sh)

Introduces students to the art of thinking critically about the social construction of race, ethnicity,

Midterm Exam (1 hour)

1. General (3 hours lecture)

V. Attendance Policy

Individual faculty will denote an attendance policy on specific course syllabi.

VI. Textbooks

Course Analysis Questionnaire: CRIM 410

Section A: Details of the Course

Section C: Implementation

- C1 Faculty resources are adequate. The proposed course is part of a major program revision. The program revision was designed to fit departmental resources.
- C2 No additional resources are needed.
- C3 No part of the course is grant funded.
- C4 Frequency of course offering: every semester.
Please see Appendix A for a chart of course offerings.
- C5 Number of sections: two (2).
Please see Appendix A for a chart of course offerings.
- C6 Number of students per section: 25
Please see Appendix A for a chart of course offerings.
- C7 Our professional societies have NOT made any recommendations regarding problem solving in attempts to address crime and

men and the disenfranchised
in the struggle. (General

ts. Emphasis on social condition of poverty and criminal justice system.

ization and employment in

acial/ethnic groups;
ization; definitional issues
ation/disparity at various

nal justice system.

on of criminal and delinquent

nining the contradictory ocial change and as a

and ethnic, racial, and ural backgrounds, with the world.

justice system. Course will derstanding this dynamic.