

It can be difficult to know where to start with disability support at IUP when you are a student on the autism spectrum. This info guide is designed to help you to understand the services and accommodations that are available ${}^2A^2$) as well as the recommended support program that is offered by the Labyrinth Center for Autism Spectrum Support.

First, you need to register for accommodations through the Department for Disability Access and Advising (D^2A^2), which is the officially designated university department for providing services for IUP students with disabilities and verifying and keeping documentation of disability. After registering with D^2A^2 , we encourage you to register for the ASD support program offered by the Labyrinth Center.
